JORDI NINOT

An illustration of a polar bear family swimming in the ocean. The water is a deep blue with white, scalloped waves. In the foreground, two polar bears are swimming towards the right. They have white bodies, black noses, and orange mouths. Behind them, another polar bear is swimming. In the background, there are several white icebergs of various shapes floating in the water. The sky is a light blue gradient.

A colorful illustration of a room. In the center is a light-colored wooden door with a brass handle and two small blue square windows. The floor is checkered in shades of green and yellow. To the left, there is a blue and white plaid suitcase and a green bag with white polka dots. On the right, a hand is holding a red comb. The background wall is green with a textured pattern and a white rectangular object.
